The decision to designate a landmark tree takes into consideration the following qualities:

- (1) Structure/physical characteristics The tree presents a structural or physical presence that is exceptional. Also includes the age, size, or rarity of the tree. The overall health and condition of the tree is considered.
- (2) Ecological interaction and contribution The ecological contribution of the tree is exceptional or the tree positively affects the surrounding environment in a superlative manner, including: If the tree is a prominent landscape feature; is part of an interdependent group of trees or exists in an area with low tree density; or if it provides important wildlife habitat or environmental mitigation.
- (3) Cultural or historical value The noteworthy cultural or historical value of the tree including: If it reflects the character or a unique time or event in the history of the neighborhood or the city; if it is of particular value to certain cultural or ethnic groups in the city; if it contributes significantly to or is representative of neighborhood character. Includes accessibility and utility to the public.
- (4) Aesthetic contribution The extraordinary aesthetic qualities of the tree including: If the tree is visible or accessible from public property; if the tree is of distinguished form or is a good example of form for its species; if the tree has a majestic or otherwise unique structure; if it is a prominent landscape feature.

Please indicate which of these four criteria are applicable to the tree under consideration (more than one may apply):

- (1) Structural/physical characteristics
- (2) Ecological interaction
- (3) Cultural or historical value
- (4) Aesthetic contribution

Attach additional sheets to provide the following:

1) Justification of nomination:

For each category checked above, please provide rationale and documentation to support this nomination.

2) Additional comments:

Please provide any further information about ways in which this tree may be noteworthy and deserving of special recognition by the City of San Francisco.

3) Supporting documents:

Provide photographs of the tree that illustrate the characteristics described above.

Additional documentation is encouraged, such as historical records or photographs, environmental or arborist reports, media coverage, or letters of support.

Please note: If the Urban Forestry Council Landmark Tree Committee Chair, in consultation with the Urban Forestry Council Coordinator, finds that the information provided in a nomination packet is inadequate for the purposes of making a determination of the worthiness of a nominated tree, more information may be required of the nominating party before the Urban Forestry Council schedules a hearing.

Direct completed nomination packets, any questions about this form or the process to landmark a tree, and any questions about tree terms or tree concepts, to the Urban Forestry Council staff:
