

Survey on SF Environment Grantmaking
February 2014

Questions were loaded into Survey Monkey. In addition to YES, NO and NA responses, each question also had a section for comments.

Which grant(s) did you apply for: Environmental Justice Zero Waste SF Carbon Fund

1. Did you attend the bidders conference/RFP workshop? Yes No
2. Was the bidders conference helpful? Yes No NA
3. Was it clear who your primary point of contact was for the RFP process? Yes No
4. Did you contact this person with questions or requests for clarification? Yes No
5. Was this person accessible? Yes No
6. Were the various requirements and attachments adequately explained at the bidders conference?
Yes No NA
7. Were the various requirements and attachments adequately explained in the RFP? Yes No
8. Did you understand the length limits for the narrative and attachments? Yes No
9. If you applied for the SF Carbon Fund, was it clear how to use the Carbon Calculator? Yes No
10. If you applied for SF Carbon Fund and/or Zero Waste funding, was a “co-benefit” clearly explained at the bidders conference/RFP workshop? Yes No NA
11. Did you understand the questions asked in the RFP? Yes No
12. Do you have recommendations for project questions that would give you more opportunities to describe and explain your project, or to communicate the community efficacy of your project as compared to Citywide quasi-governmental efforts? Yes No
13. Was it clear how your proposal/project was being evaluated? Yes No
14. Were deadlines clearly articulated at the bidders conference? Yes No NA
15. Were deadlines clearly articulated in the RFP? Yes No
16. Was the submission process clear? Yes No
17. Were you successful in uploading documents? Yes No
18. If your project was not funded, did you take advantage of the opportunity to get feedback on your proposal?
Yes No