Upon a motion by Member Troxel, and a second by Chair Lacan, the minutes including the requested amendment were approved without objection. (Ayes: Chair Igor Lacan, Member Crawford, Member Sullivan, Member Troxel. Noes: None; Excused: None; Absent: None).

3. General Public Comment: Members of the public may address the Committee on matters that are within the Committee's jurisdiction and are not on today's agenda.

There was no public comment.

4. Discussion of federal funding for street tree planting. Speaker: Jon Swae, San Francisco Public Works. (Discussion)

Jon Swae presented on federal infrastructure stimulus funding for street tree planting. Through Deborah Rafael and Brett KenCairn, Public Works was made aware of an initiative called "Trees for Community Recovery", with a focus on jobs, health, and equity. The initiative is trying to obtain $4 billion over the next 5 years to support tree planting and job creation in underserved communities.

In April, Mayor Breed signed onto a Trees for Community Recovery letter.

In June-July, Public Works prepared a funding proposal. They are looking for funding sources because Prop E did not provide money for tree planting.

Public Works developed a tree planting strategy. They aim to have 155,000 trees in 20 years, and to plant in low canopy neighborhoods.

The street tree census identified ~30,000 vacant planting sites.

Public Works is proceeding with plans to develop a street tree nursery at Fifth and Harrison. They have received some initial seed funding.

The proposal involves scaling up planting over the next 3 years for a total of 18,000 trees. The bulk of the planting is to be done by contractors. All involved parties will have to double their watering capabilities. The cost will be ~$67 million total over 3 years.

Public Works will be collaborating with FUF and SF Clean City on workforce development.

The five Vanguard City urban forest expansion budgets were presented.

Public Works received $2.5 million from Mayor's budget.

Member Sullivan asked for clarification if the numbers meant additional plantings, Swae confirmed yes.

Member Crawford brought up the limitations to scaling up operations that quickly. Member Crawford also thanked Swae for his work.

Chair Lacan said it is good to look at urban forestry as a way to improve multiple things, such as workforce development and climate adaptation. Chair Lacan also brought up concerns about only having 3 years for the initiative. Swae responded and said they believe they will be able to execute the initiative during the 3 years as contractors are on board.

Chair Lacan commented that in the future, it would be good to generally have things in place so that SF and Public Works are considered "shovel ready", so that they have higher likelihoods of getting selected for funding and opportunities.

Member Sullivan asked how fast things will be moving once this goes forward. Swae responded and said that it should be moving forward in 2-4 weeks, but he doesn't know when funds will be available. Peter Brastow expressed that this is a new initiative and there are many variables, resulting in a lot of uncertainty.

Member Crawford expressed that it is good that they are working with many entities on this initiative, allowing them to be more effective.

Member Troxel asked if things purchased with the current funding will be available for future years. Swae responded and said yes for the equipment, but the staffing positions created by the funding would be temporary.

Member Troxel asked if per tree planting cost from city to city was considered when funding was awarded. Swae said he did not know selection specifics, but would be willing to share the final documents. Member Sullivan said he thought it unlikely due to the scope of the project.

Member Crawford expressed that it may be easier to secure continuing support once programs are underway.

Member Troxel asked how the Council would know when things are moving forward. Swae said he and Peter Brastow will let them know.

Public Comment:

Susan Karasoff expressed appreciation for the efforts that had gone into the proposal. Karasoff mentioned a recent report that the International Panel on Climate Change and the International Panel on Biodiversity coauthored regarding how climate change and biodiversity must be addressed together, expressed that San Francisco cannot lose any more wildlife, and called for more native trees to be planted.

Lance Carnes expressed appreciation for Jon Swae's presentation and asked who is going to manage the overall project. Carnes also expressed that the urban forest plan from 2014 hasn't resulted in a large net increase in trees, and so asked if the Council is considering creating a more modern urban forest plan.

5. New Business/Future Agenda Items. (Discussion and Possible Action)

Member Sullivan said that he has been talking with Michael Boland from Presidio Trust about the study that had been done in conjunction with the CA Academy of Sciences about looking at habitat value of landscape plantings. Member Sullivan suggested there could be a presentation before the full council about it, and expressed support for a new program studying habitat value of the street trees to help restore native plants.

Chair Lacan said he would send Member Sullivan a paper about habitat value of various plants.

Peter Brastow said he knows of someone from Chico who does relevant work, who might be able to make a presentation as well.

Member Troxel brought up the remote sensing and satellite imaging data, suggested bringing in Brian Quinn to talk about who has access to what data and how to obtain necessary data.

Peter Brastow asked if Public Works was ready to talk about the street tree nursery, either at the next meeting or the meeting after that. Member Crawford said they would need to chat about that.

Peter Brastow gave an update on the Annual Urban Forestry Report, and said it will be brought before the Council likely in October.

Public Comment:

Susan Karasoff expressed appreciation for the Presidio attempting to measure the habitat value of ornamental plants and mentioned a number of papers about habitat value. Karasoff reiterated that native plants need to be planted now.

6. Adjournment.

The meeting was adjourned at 5:12 p.m.
