The Commission on the Environment meeting was convened at 5:02 p.m.

Present: Commissioners Ahn, Chu, Stephenson, Sullivan, Wald, and Wan. Excused: Commissioner Bermejo.

2. President's Welcome. (Discussion)

President Stephenson began by sharing best practices for virtual Commission meetings. She spoke about the all-electric new construction ordinance and the importance of taking climate action now. She referenced the recent wildfires and poor air quality in the Bay Area and the urgency behind working to reduce the City's carbon emissions.

Public Comment via Telephone:

3. Approval of Minutes of the July 28, 2020 Commission on the Environment Meeting. (Explanatory Documents: July 28, 2020 Draft Minutes) (Discussion and Action)

Upon a motion by Commissioner Sullivan and a second by Commissioners Ahn and Wald, the minutes were approved without objection. (Ayes: Commissioners Ahn, Chu, Stephenson, Sullivan, Wald, and Wan; Noes: None; Absent: Bermejo).

PRESENTATIONS

5. Presentation on the City's Economic Recovery Task Force and the role for the environment in recovery efforts. Sponsor: Deborah Raphael, Director. Speaker: Ted Egan, Chief Economist; Heather Green, Capital Planning Director and Deputy Resilience Officer; Maura Fallon-Knight, Business Council on Climate Change Executive Director (Discussion)

Director Deborah Raphael introduced the item.

Ted Egan, Chief Economist at the Office of the Controller, shared current statistics related to the state of the City's economy including job loss, average wages, and average rent prices.

Heather Green, Office of Resilience and Planning, gave a background of the Economic Recovery Task Force and some of the research and data that are informing the group's priorities. She discussed next steps for the task force and their focus on a safe reopening.

Maura Fallon-McKnight, Business Council on Climate Change (BC3) Executive Director, covered the history of BC3 and the actions and commitments being made by member companies. She then shared BC3's Climate-Smart Recovery Initiative.

President Stephenson expressed her gratitude for the speakers and the ideas shared in these presentations.

Commissioner Sullivan mentioned that he has been surprised by spaces that have been reimaged due to the pandemic and asked if anything could be learned from this. He asked if it would be possible to calculate the COVID-19 impact on emissions in San Francisco.

President Stephenson asked if there is a trend towards employees leaving the City and how this could impact the downtown area.

Ted Egan confirmed that most of the data collected is anecdotal. He mentioned that the housing market in suburban areas has remained strong.

President Stephenson asked where the Department would be able to address some of these issues.

Director Raphael mentioned that the Department can focus on recovery efforts for small businesses as well as her participation in the Economic Recovery Task Force. She asked that the Commissioners think about ways the Department could contribute to how the city allocates its resources and supports sustainable development.

Heather Green mentioned the importance of encouraging action and working on local legislation. She spoke about how the Department of the Environment has the ability to set guidance for what can be built in the city.

President Stephenson referenced the recent planning process she completed with her company and the need for thinking about what is possible in the near-term as well as the long-term. She mentioned some of the changes that the City has gone through recently and the need to balance urgent needs with long-term visioning.

Director Raphael asked what the next steps will be after the release of the Economic Recovery Task Force's report and recommendations. She asked what it will take to turn the report into action.

Heather Green mentioned that it will be important to connect all the efforts that are underway and that city stakeholders should look to see how everything can be brought together. She emphasized the importance of legislation and encouraging the public to communicate what they would like to see in their public spaces.

Commissioner Ahn asked what data might be available in the future.

Ted Egan mentioned that the Census data might be a source of migration data as well as IRS data. He mentioned that the picture will become clearer over the next few years.

Commissioner Wald asked if we should question whether our environmental goals are bold enough and if we have the opportunity to push some forward.

President Stephenson agreed that this would be a good question to consider and thanked the speakers.

Public comment via telephone:

Susan with the California Native Plant Society expressed concern about the public health, biodiversity, and climate crises, and she asked that the climate business community keep biodiversity in mind. She suggested that the Department of Recreation and Parks propagate native plants and that the City consider replacing golf courses with a variety of ways for City residents to spend time outside. She asked if companies would consider allowing their wellness funds to be used for planting native species that contribute to health and wellness.

6. Review and vote on whether to accept the Policy Committee's recommendation to approve Resolution File 2020-03-COE adopting the 2020 Reduced Risk Pesticide list for City properties.

Under the Environment Code, the Department maintains a Reduced Risk Pesticide List identifying those pesticides that may be used on City property, subject to restrictions. Sponsor: Deborah Raphael, Director; Speaker Dr. Chris Geiger, Integrated Pest Management Program Manager (Explanatory Documents: Staff memo, Resolution File No. 2020-03-COE, 2020 Reduced Risk Pesticide List and Public Comment and Responses) (Discussion and Action)

Deborah Raphael introduced the agenda item.

Chris Geiger, Integrated Pest Management Program Manager, presented on the background of the Integrated Pest Management program and ordinance, pesticide use trends for 2019, and recommendations to the Commission on the reduced risk pesticide list.

President Stephenson asked if Commissioner Ahn would like to add any additional information from the Policy Committee.

Commissioner Ahn confirmed that he did not have anything to add but that he is in support of the next agenda item.

Commissioner Sullivan asked if other cities are looking at using Weedslayer and if it would be possible to access their data.

Chris Geiger mentioned that other jurisdictions including the Presidio Trust, Marin County, and the Department of Recreation and Parks are all looking into using Weedslayer. He said that it is difficult to know what it could replace in different circumstances but there are promising results.

Commissioner Wald mentioned that the data presented reflects real and dramatic change in the culture of City agencies and how they think about using pesticides. There should be a sense of accomplishment around what has happened and how it has happened.

Public Comment via Telephone:

David Pilpel conveyed his support for the reduction in pesticide use and the transition to less toxic alternatives.

Upon a motion by Commissioner Wald and a second by Commissioner Wan, the resolution was approved without objection. (Ayes: Commissioners Ahn, Chu, Stephenson, Sullivan, Wald, and Wan; Noes: None; Absent: Bermejo).

President Stephenson expressed her appreciation for the work done by the Policy Committee and the Department on this list.

7. Discussion and vote on whether the Commission should send letters to Bell Laboratories to support distribution of its rat control alternative product and to the EPA to support a variance to allow dry ice to be used as a pesticide. Sponsor: Deborah Raphael, Director; Speaker: Dr. Chris Geiger, Integrated Pest Management Program Manager (Discussion and Action)

Director Raphael introduced the agenda item.

Chris Geiger gave a history of dry ice being used as an alternative rat control product and the pilot testing done with an exempt product. He mentioned the lack of distribution on the West Coast and the inability to use a product that has shown to be successful.

Commissioner Ahn mentioned that the Policy Committee supported these letters to encourage less-toxic alternatives.

Commissioner Wan commended the Department's efforts with this product and the interesting story behind it.

Director Raphael asked how the product works.

Chris Geiger confirmed that the product suffocates the rats and requires measures to block the burrow holes.

Commissioner Sullivan asked if this vote is for both letters to be sent to Bell Labs and the EPA.

President Stephenson confirmed that the vote would be for both letters.

Public Comment via telephone:

David Pilpel mentioned that the closed captioning on SFGovTV was not currently working. He expressed his support for this agenda item.

Upon a motion by Commissioner Sullivan and a second by Commissioner Ahn, the resolution was approved without objection. (Ayes: Commissioners Ahn, Chu, Stephenson, Sullivan, Wald, and Wan; Noes: None; Absent: Bermejo).

8. Director's Report. Updates on Department of the Environment administrative and programmatic operations relating to Budget Planning, Strategic Planning, Clean Air/Transportation, Climate, Energy, Public Outreach and Education, Environmental Justice, Habitat Restoration, Green Building, Zero Waste, Toxics Reduction, and Urban Forestry. Speaker: Deborah Raphael, Director (Explanatory Document: Director's Report) (Discussion)

Director Raphael gave an update on the all-electric new construction ordinance at the Board of Supervisors Land Use and Transportation Committee meeting. She spoke about how the Department has pivoted its messaging around the pandemic and climate change with the BayREN program. She mentioned the collaborations with other departments through the City's COVID Command Center, SFMTA's task force, Recology's 100th anniversary, and New York Climate Week.

Public Comment via Telephone:

David Pilpel called to mention that Denise, a longtime city employee and supporter of environmental efforts, passed away and highlighted all of the loss we have experienced from COVID-19 and other causes in 2020.
